Dr. A. J. McKelway Presents Brief in Behalf of Committee.

PROPOSES A PLAN

Would Reserve to Citizens Right to Veto Legislation Inimical

Dr. A. J. McKelway, chairman of the citizens' committee of forty on popular government for the District, has personally handed to President Wilson a brief on behalf of his committee, which he asked the Executive to give his personal attention. The President promised to do so. The following is part of the

"That in a nation which uttered the Declaration of Independence at its birth, a community of more than average ina community of more than average in-felligence, with a population of more than a third of a million souls, should be denied the right of self-government, the privilege of electing its legislative and executive officials, is an anomally. The proposal that such a state of affairs shall continue indefinitely on American soil can be justified only by considera of extraordinary moment Wants Right of Veto. "The citizens of the District were de-prived of the suffrage and thus of self-government in 1874. The demand for the restoration of this right has been held in check since 1878 because of the so-called organic act, one of whose provi-sions was the stipulation that the United States should pay from the national Treasury one-half of the sum appropri-ated for the expenses of the District. This half-and-half plan has been held up by interested taxpayers of the District as an inducement to the people to remain contented with disfranchisement. 'The Congress could easily protect the national interest in the Capital by re-serving the right of veto for legislation by the District, as in Territorial governments.

If Congress should double taxation in the sentiment against taxation without representation would immediately become overwhelming and unanimous. Washington has less public sipirt than any city in America. TAMPICO TO HEAR SOUND OF GUNS.

Editorial in The Washington Heraid April 14. Admiral Mayo has forced an issue by demanding that the Mexican federal forces at Tampico fire a salute of twenty-one guns to the American flag as an apology for arresting some United States marines. Reports have been conflicting as to the day and hour when the salute is to be fired, but there is no doubt that Admiral Mayo has made the demand, and it is stated by authority that the President is supporting him. Is this a real crisis? It looks like one. Tampico will hear the sound of guns.

POLICE 'SANITY SQUAD' PLANNED FOR CAPITAL

Sylvester Wants Force of Twenty as "Moral Band" to Make City Model of Purity.

TO KEEP EYES ON PARKS ALSO

Washington this summer probably will Washington this summer probably will have a "sanity squad" of policemen. In plainer words, a "moral band" of blue-coats whose efforts will be devoted solely to uplifting the morals of the immorally inclined.

Maj. Richard Sylvester, superintendent of police, probably will succeed in getting the Commissioners to favor the detail of at least twenty policemen to this work.

The "sanity squad" or "moral band" will not be in uniform. Each man will wieve Frizzell at the annual Davis prize or fell from upper stories and were insert of the George Washington Unistantly killed.

Mrs. Shackford and Mrs. Bemis jumped or fell from upper stories and were insert of the George Washington Unistantly killed.

There is a bill in Congress providing or seventy-five special park policemen. The true reason of this is to break up-vice as it usually exists in summer-months in secluded spots, and make it months in secluded spots, and make it safer and less embarrassing to stroll "The School of the Canal Builders," by spread of the fire may be attributed to the person who went to the fire may without their approval.

The attention of Congress is unduly taken up with District matters. One-twelfth of the time of the House and a proportionate time of the Senate ordinarily is absorbed in the discussion of legislation for about one-third of 1 per cent of the population of the United States, to say nothing of the time the President consumes in considering legislation and appointments.

It is unseemly that the principles of taxation without representation, of government without the consent of the government without a protest against that very form of tyranny. Our committee suggests the appointment by the President of a commission, preferably of mine persons, three members of the House, three of the Senate, and three citizens of the District, to study the subject and report its conclusions to the set of the Senate and three citizens of the District, to study the subject and report its conclusions to the set of the Senate and the set of and report its conclusions to the set of the Senate and three citizens of the Builders Exchange to reported last night at the Builders Exchange to report and Charles C.
